A Lay Preacher

Brain Fag, Nervous Exhaustion—

Just a change of opinion was enough to give Mr. W. King his present prosperity, for he realised in the nick of time that his way was not curing his brain fag and nervous exhaustion, so he tried the Phosferine way. Mr. King's method was to ignore his despondency and feeling of collapse, and persuade himself there was nothing unusual in the painful fatigue and weariness he experienced. After leaving the lock they paddled down through Marlow Lock, Captain Sanderson coaching from the Wellboat launch, and there were with him the Rev. D. Sandersen and Meers, R. Le Blance Smith (President), Eric Powell, H. W. M. Arbutnott, C. A. Skinner (all old Cambridge Blues), and Mr. James Leyton, M.P. After leaving the lock they paddled to Marlow Point, and then the crew got ready for the long and arduous pull to Cookham Bridge, about three and a quarter miles. They had no wind to interfere with them, and the stream was not so fast as it has been, but Swann went at a very fast pace, although only 17 were set in the first half and 30 in the full minute. Falling now as low as 23, Swann got the crew to Stoken House Gate in 3min. 35sec. When they got to the Tower, who has been absent from the boat for some days, resumes duty to-morrow.

They had some severe work to finish up the week-end, and it was ten minutes past three when the boat was launched; and they were given an hour and a half's hard bit of training, all looking pretty well tired out at the end of the pull. They paddled down through Marlow Lock, Captain Sanderson coaching from the Wellboat launch, and there were with him the Rev. D. Sandersen and Meers, R. Le Blance Smith (President), Eric Powell, H. W. M. Arbutnott, C. A. Skinner (all old Cambridge Blues), and Mr. James Leyton, M.P. After leaving the lock they paddled to Marlow Point, and then the crew got ready for the long and arduous pull to Cookham Bridge, about three and a quarter miles. They had no wind to interfere with them, and the stream was not so fast as it has been, but Swann went at a very fast pace, although only 17 were set in the first half and 30 in the full minute. Falling now as low as 23, Swann got the crew to Stoken House Gate in 3min. 35sec. When they got to the more open water their stroke put on more pace, but long before Spade Oak Ferry was negotiated the stroke had dropped to 20. The crew made Spade Oak in 7min. 35sec. As they got near Bourne End Railway Bridge a dozen "hard strokes" were indulged in by the crew, and the time to the bridge was 10min. 35sec.

Falling again to 26 after the bridge, signs of having had enough of it were apparent in more than one place in the crew, but it would not be fair to distinguish the faulty spots, but some of the men got lamentably "short"; still they pulled themselves well together for the final burst to Cookham Bridge, which was reached in 16 min. 35sec., and they then rested at Turk's boathouse for a bit.

The times cannot compare at all with their last year's records to Bourne End Bridge from Marlow, but one can take it generally that pulling a fault of two it was a fine piece of rowing, taken altogether. The men then paddled back in easy stages against the stream to the Marlow Rowing Club boathouse, where the boat is put up, and they are very pleased with the place altogether, and doubtless will again do part of their training there.

Billiards Tournament.

AKENS BILLIARDS.

Last week's heat in Messrs. Burroughes and Watts' American tournament at Soho-square was between T. Akens (received 1,500) and A. F. Peall (received 3,000).

The second session of the heat showed Akens at his best, the Scotsman scoring 631 points, with an average of 126, and a best break of 317, against Peall's total of 37. On the following day Akens again had the better of the game, and the next afternoon he took the lead.

Scoring on Thursday was fairly even, but on Friday Akens considerably increased his advantage, and the close of play led by 1,115. The score then was: Akens, 7,751; Peall, 6,936.

Peall was quite outplayed yesterday afternoon, and scored only 119 points to Akens' 624. Akens broke balls of 323 (full), 44, 60, and 139, while Peall's chief items were 69. Interval scores: Akens (in play), 8,357; Peall, 6,755.

There was no play in the evening, Peall being unwell and the game was awarded to Akens.

INMAN MAKES MANY FINE BREAKS.

Great interest attaches to the match between M. Inman and W. J. Peall for £200 a-side, which was begun at Messrs. Thurston's Leicester-square, last Monday. Peall receives £2,000 start in 24,000 up, Inman being set the severe task of scoring 1,000 points at each session of the fortnight's game.

Inman began badly, and the opening session left him with a deficit of 414 points. He found his game at night, however, and, scoring rapidly, made two excellent breaks of 307 and 302 in an aggregate of 1,186. Inman scored 950 on Tuesday afternoon and 1,017 in the evening, with 346, as his chief contribution, Peall making a break of 197.

On Wednesday afternoon the champion showed brilliant form in completing a break of 604, and, by totalling 1,292 to his opponent's 821, gained an advantage on the handicap. At night Inman scored 986 to 614. Inman played admirably on Thursday, when he made breaks of 269, 258, and 295, and during the day scored 2,014 to Peall's 471, the latter being 592 behind his point at the close.

Peall had matters much his way on Friday afternoon, the veteran, who played consistently, scoring 1,002 to Inman's 608, but the champion showed improvement in the evening, his aggregate of 854 including a break of 861. Peall scored 600, and at the adjournment had 593 the better of the handicap, the totals then being 17,000 to 9,482.

Inman was in good form yesterday afternoon and totalled 973 points to Peall's 600. Inman's principal breaks

SCIENCE AND MALARIA

In the year 1880 Laveran, a French army surgeon, traced the cause of Malaria to parasites in the blood. At about the same time a British physician, practising in Canada, was busy at work perfecting a formula of his own for use in the treatment of diseases of the blood. Following the lines indicated by Laveran, scientists have since added materially to the World's knowledge on the subject of malarial parasitology. Since then, too, the Canadian physician's discovery, under the name of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, has gained recognition wherever Malaria exists as the only proved remedy for this disease.

"When residing in Southern India some eight years ago I was attacked by Malaria," says Mr. A. M. Johnson, Manager of Messrs. A. Barnes & Son's Railway Refreshment Rooms at Mandalay, Burma. "I took Quinine until my ears buzzed. I took ice-liquids to lower the fever with disastrous results to my stomach. After each bout of fever I struggled back to work, only to find myself again in its grip after a few days' respite."

Mr. A. M. Johnson, of Mandalay, Burma, who here relates how he was cured of Malaria by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"Then I gave up my position, determined to seek employment in a healthy country, and came to Burma. The sea trip did me good, but the germs had travelled with me, and after being in Rangoon but a few months I was down with Fever again.

"One day a friend called upon me and, seeing my pitiful condition, advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. He said that these pills had cured him when he had Malaria a short time before.

I commenced taking the pills, with particular care as to the directions, and after the first two bottles I felt much better than I had done for some time. My appetite had returned, my nights were blessed with peaceful sleep again.

"I continued with the treatment, and within a few short weeks felt myself another man. Since then I have been better in health than ever before. My heartfelt gratitude is due to this wonderful medicine."

As a remedy for all disorders due to impure or watery blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People stand pre-eminent, having cured almost numberless cases of Anemia, Debility, Rheumatism, Indigestion, Skin eruptions, and ladies' ailments. Sold by dealers everywhere, and by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 84 Queen's Road, Shanghai, one bottle for $1.50, mix for 33, post free.

THE AMERICA CUP.

CHALLENGE DECLINED.

LONDON, March 14.
The New York Yacht Club has declined Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America cup.

WHY THE CHALLENGE WAS DECLINED.

The challenge has been declined, a later telegram states, because the terms impose a condition that the defending yacht shall not exceed 75 feet in length at the waterline, which would deprive the Club of the privilege of entering a vessel from 65 to 90 feet, as provided in the deed of gift.

TURCO-BALKANS WAR.

THE FIGHTING AT NIGRITA.

LONDON, March 13.
The Times correspondent at Salonika reports that the fight at Nigrita between the Bulgarians and the Greeks continued all Friday. The Bulgarians retreated at night across the Karasu River. The Greeks pursued and burned the bridges. The Bulgarians hoisted the white flag and 120 Bulgarians were captured. The Greek losses were 15 killed and 40 wounded.

ADRIANOPOLE ABOUT TO FALL.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that, according to a private code message received in London from Sofia, after desperate fighting the Bulgarian captured the fort of Heitantar, capturing 400 prisoners. The Bulgarians expect to enter Adrianople to-day.

TURKISH ARMY AND NAVY ENGAGED.

It is reported from Constantinople that serious fighting took place at Balaia on the 11th inst., the Turkish fleet co-operating with the troops.

THE ALLIES' TERMS.

It is telegraphed from Sofia that in their reply to the Note of the Powers, the Allies will ask that a line be drawn from Midia to Rodosto as the Turko-Bulgarian frontier, and the cession of all the occupied territories, with their fortresses; also the Aegean Islands, and the payment of a war indemnity.

TO DEAL WITH SUFFRAGETTES.

LONDON, March 13.
Mr. Asquith has announced that the Government is considering the necessity of altering the law to deal with outrages by Suffragettes.

HOUSE OF LORDS' REFORMS

HEREDITARY PRINCIPLE AND VETO TO GO.

LONDON, March 13.
Mr. H. Samuel (Postmaster-General) has announced in the House of Commons that the Government meant to submit proposals for the reform of the House of Lords in the present Parliament. The proposed new Chamber would contain no vestige of the hereditary principle, and its absolute veto would, in no circumstances, be restored.

GERMANY AND ALARMIST ARTICLES.

LONDON, March 13.

The Norddeutsche emphatically declares that the alarmist articles in certain German papers (meaning doubtless the Koelnische Zeitung) are in nowise officially inspired, and denies that the increase in the Army is due to a change for the worse in the relations between Germany and any of her neighbours. The article explains the Army Bill by the shifting of the balance of power in the Balkans, and says that so long as eternal peace is not guaranteed Germany has to reckon on the possibility of defending herself on several sides.

THE UNIVERSITY BOAT RACE.

WIN FOR OXFORD.

LONDON, March 14.
In spite of unprecedented misfortune in the shape of breakdowns and substitutions, the Cambridge crew are displaying such pace as to disquiet the "prophets." Nevertheless, Oxford are the strong favourites, and it is a question whether Cambridge, with an imperfectly trained crew, can last the distance.

A later telegram states that Oxford won by three-quarters of a length.

A "SUFFRAGETTE" HOARD.

RESULT OF A STUDIO RAID.

LONDON, March 14.

The deceased, who was born at Quebec, had a distinguished career in the Navy and possessed a number of British, as well as foreign Orders. He retired in 1907, at which time he was Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth, and A.D.C. to the Queen. He had been a Director of the Japanese Imperial Naval College from 1873 to 1875, and possessed the First Class Order of the Rising Sun of Japan.

LONDON, March 14.
Reuter's Lyttelton correspondent telegraphs that the "Terra Nova" has sailed for England.

THE KING'S SPEECH.

OPPOSITION AMENDMENT REJECTED.

LONDON, March 13.
Mr. Walter Long moved the Opposition amendment to the Address, denouncing the methods whereby it was proposed to force Home Rule and Disestablishment through.

Mr. Asquith replied with a vigorous defence of the Parliament Bill, and ridiculed the contention that the Bills ought to be referred to the people.

The amendment moved by Mr. Long was rejected by 232 votes to 100.

In the course of the debate Mr. Bonar Law urged the Government to refer the Home Rule question to the people. He said he had been accused of inciting to break the law. If he had done so, it was not by indiscretion. He thoroughly realised the responsibility and was afraid of it. Laws passed in these conditions could not, and ought not, to command respect and obedience.

NO TARIFF REFORM AMENDMENT.

It was decided not to propose a Tariff Reform amendment to the Royal Address.

AUSTRALIA'S NEW CAPITAL.

NAME OFFICIALLY SETTLED.

LONDON, March 13.
Lord Denman, Governor-General of the Australian Commonwealth, has laid the foundation stone of Australia's new capital, which has been named Canberra.

The morning was fine and, on the site of the new capital, people were early astir. Special trains ran from Sydney and Melbourne, and the gathering included the Federal and New South Wales Ministers, and many local notables. Lady Denman motored there, while the Governor General headed a cavalcade. A band played the National Anthem and the Artillery fired salutes.

Lord Denman laid the first stone. The name of the capital was a secret till Lady Denman said: "I name the capital of Australia Canberra." A storm of applause greeted the announcement, as there has been much controversy over the suggested name of Myola and others.

A cable was despatched to H.M. the King.

SIR PERCY SCOTT'S RETIREMENT.

LONDON, March 13.
Admiral Sir Percy Scott has explained that his remaining on the active list would only delay the promotion of juniors. He said unhesitatingly that the British Navy was never more efficient than it is to-day.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT.

LATER.
The announcement of Sir Percy Scott's retirement from the Navy was made at the annual banquet of the Association of Chambers of Commerce at which Mr. Sidney Buxton, President of the Board of Trade and Prince Lichnowsky, the German Ambassador, were guests.

Mr. Buxton declared that the war in the Near East had one desirable result in bringing together the great nations of Europe in more friendly relations.

Prince Lichnowsky dwelt on the intimate relationship between trade and diplomacy. He said that trade rivalry did not produce ill-feeling between peoples, but formed a necessary part of everlasting competition, which formed the basis of human progress. Such rivalry would benefit not only Great Britain and Germany, but the whole of mankind.

ALLEGED ARMED ROBBERY.

At the Magistracy this afternoon before Mr. Melville, two men were charged on demand by Detective-Inspector O'Sullivan with being concerned in an armed robbery which was committed on February 11th at No. 1, Square Street, when money and jewellery of the total value of £1,753.90 was stolen. A woman who had been engaged with being an accessory in the case has already been committed for trial.

Mr. Reader Harris, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, and Mr. Shenton, of Messrs. Deacon, Looker, Deacon and Harston, defended.

A widow living on the second floor of No. 1, Square Street, said she went to bed about 8 p.m. on February 10th. About 1.30 a.m. she heard a knocking at the door, and some one called out for the door to be opened. After another instant the house had opened the door, four robbers entered. A call of "Save Life" was made, and witness came out from her cubicle. Witness went into the passage and was seized and she also called out "Save Life." She was tied, beaten, and gagged afterwards, and property was taken from her pockets consisting of £410 in bank-notes, 85 gold beads, a set of old-fashioned tooth picks, a gold watch-chain with charms attached, and a box containing diamond rings and jewellery. The men then asked for her keys, and when she told them where they were they searched her boxes, and took some things out. Afterwards the police came and the men made off. She could not identify the men. They had knives and threatened to stab her if she called out.

In reply to Mr. Harris, witness said she always slept with all this property in her pockets.

Further evidence was being taken as we went to press.

POLICE PROMOTIONS.

Inspector David Gourlay, of Shaukiwan, has been appointed Chief Inspector of the Hongkong Police in succession to Mr. H. G. Baker who is shortly retiring on pension. Mr. Gourlay has had a varied experience during his twenty years' service in the Hongkong Police.

Detective-Inspector Edmund O'Sullivan has been made a first-class Inspector, and Sergeant W. G. Gerrard, of the Wan Chai Police Station has been appointed to the vacant Inspectorship.

All the promotions have been received with general favour, as all the officers are very popular in the force.

THE TRONCH MINES.

The Straits Times has been informed by the general manager that the output of the Tronch Mines in February was:—From the mine pits 2,386.57, from tributaries 248.87, total 2,635.44. Values from the mine £18,578.81, from tributaries £13,141.88 £17,500.77. Estimated profit from mine (after payment of all expenditure, development, capital, expenditure) £7,138.91, from tributaries £880.81, total £7,019.72.

SCOTTISH SPORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
EDINBURGH, March 18.
SCOTLAND V. IRELAND.
It is announced that the following 14 have been selected to play for Scotland in the Rugby International against Ireland at Iverleath, Edinburgh, on Saturday, February 22.—

W. M. Dickson (Oxford University);
W. R. Sutherland (Hawick); R. E. Gordon (London Scottish). Another, and J. G. Will (Cambridge University).

T. C. Bowie and E. Milroy (Watsonians); F. H. Turner (Liverpool), captain; D. M. Bain (Oxford University); W. D. C. L. Purves (London Scottish); G. H. Maxwell (Edinburgh Academicals); P. C. B. Blair, (Cambridge University); J. M. B. Scott (Edinburgh Academicals); C. M. Usher (London Scottish), and L. Robertson (London Scottish).

All are old internationals, except Bowie and Maxwell, but five changes have been made on the side which cut up so disappointingly against Wales. One was prepared for the dropping of W. A. Stewart, A. W. Angus, J. H. B. Lockhart, and C. H. Abercrombie, but not of D. D. Bowie, who has infinite dash and sound tackling ability. The return to favour of Purves is popular; he is a fine stamp of forwards and particularly good with his feet. So also is Maxwell, and the old Edinburghian will add solidity to the pack. It is pleasing to learn that Will is now quite sound, and he and Sutherland can be trusted to more than hold their own alike in pace and resource with the Irish wing three-quarters. Gordon and Sutherland ought to combine well on the right—Sutherland's proper position—and if, as is rumoured, J. Pearson (Watsonians) is to be Will's partner on the left, the line should be one of the cleverest and fastest. Bowie and Milroy are at last to have the opportunity of playing together at half-back in an International match.

ASSOCIATION CUP TEAM.

Two ties still remain undecided in the second round of the Scottish Cup, and it is not easy to account for the failure of Hibernians and Clyde to pull off their engagements. Rangers had Hamilton Academicals in a tangle all through, and it was only capital goal-keeping that kept the majority from being much larger. Third Lanark have failed to score in fifteen of their League matches, and it was not surprising that they were dismissed from the Cup without a single honour. Falkirk had a very easy thing of it with Morton.

ASSOCIATION LEAGUE.

In the Association League, Aberdeen did much to rehabilitate themselves, and at the same time made the race for the Flag more interesting, by defeating Celtic at Pittodrie. It was Celtic's fifth defeat in the competition, the second time they have lost three goals, and the third in which they have failed to score, so that the Abderdonians' victory may prove disastrous to the Irishmen's chance of the Championship. The Celts now lead by three points, but have played two matches more than Rangers; in other words, they are relatively a point behind. So while Rangers may be Rangers they are now the favourites for first place.

AMATEUR INTERNATIONAL PROPOSED.

The Scottish Football Association are to enter into negotiations with the other International Associations with a view to arranging amateur International matches.

SCOTTISH CUP THIRD ROUND.

The draw for third round of the Scottish Cup, to be played on February 22, is as follows:

St. Mirren or third Lanark v. Airdrieonians.

Clyde or East Stirlingshire v. Queen's Park.

Kilmarnock v. Hants of Mid-Lothian.

Hamilton Academicals or Rangers v. Rangers or Falkirk.
